POOLS AND RELAXATION AREAS

A universe of elements with different wide spaces: the indoor sports pool covered in tonalite is inspired by the mountain streams and sparkling reflections created by water and pale granite rocks; while the indoor and outdoor pool blends in with the landscape between sky and earth. The aquatic area is the epicentre of the Lefay SPA Method energetic path and is completed by a large whirlpool that recalls ancient spas. Here, among the shapes and stages of water, fire and ice, the saunas take you on a journey in yourself. The mineral dimension can be found in the salt-water lake and the salt grotto.
